Mardracus Wade- SEC Bound

Well friends I have good news, no make that great news and bad news all in the same story.

I should say bad news for us in Tennessee but great news for The Drake.

Mardracus Wade (Mitchell) has given his commitment to John Pelphrey and the Razorbacks of Arkansas.

We knew all along that Drake could play on this level. Drake chose Arkansas over serious interest from Missouri, Mississippi State and Alabama.

He said Arkansas has recruited him the longest and they need a guy like him who provides leadership and toughness to step in and take over this program.

Now the bad news, Mardracus will leave our fair state and finish his senior campaign at Hargrave Military Academy.

A great move for Drake, as Kevin Keatts is one of the best at getting young men prepared for the rigors of the SEC, but sad as we lose one of our favorites for his senior season.

I will truly miss Drake and wish him nothing but success as he embarks on his journey, he will always have a special place here at Tennessee Prep Hoops.

Love the Drake!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
